

Social Host Liability

“The kids are going to drink anyway, so why don’t we provide a place in our home for them where they can be supervised?”

Good intentions aside, this approach may subject both parent and child to criminal penalties and civil liability.

If teenage alcohol consumption has taken place at a supervised party, and the teenagers have left the home, the “social host’s” responsibility does not end.

Providing alcohol to a minor is a CRIME, and it comes with the penalty of IMPRISONMENT for 1 year and a FINE of $2,000.

While parents who adopt this approach think that they will be able to supervise a teenage party with alcohol, they cannot predict situations that may develop if a minor has been drinking in their home.

Make It Home

Parents and guardians, must take a proactive approach, and set good examples for our children.

Each year in the United States, over 5000 young people under the age of 21 die as a result of underage drinking.

According to the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration, (SAMHSA) in the year 2011, there were approximately 188,000 people under the age of 21 who visited an emergency room in the United States with alcohol related injuries.

Please take the time to educate your children about the dangers of underage drinking, and the consequences of making a poor decision, such as, drinking and driving. It could save their or someone else's life.
